STRIKING MINERS ARE ORDERED BACK

Ed Stewart, President of Indiana District, Issues Instructions to 240 Locals

COAL OPERATORS CALLED

Will Meet Monday to Consider Formally The Proposal For a New Wage Agreement

(By United Press)

Terre Haute, Ind., August 21.—Striking coal miners who have tied up Indiana fields for two days were ordered today to return to work immediately by Ed Stewart, president of the United Mine Workers for the Indiana district.

Telegrams were sent to 240 local unions in Indiana directing the miners to resume work pending the outcome of the meeting of the miners and operators covering Indiana, which was called for 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Members of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators association will meet Monday night to formally consider the proposal of taking up a new wage agreement with striking mine workers, it was announced today.

Officials of the association are powerless to negotiate a new agreement without the vote of the association, according to A. R. Kling, publicity agent.

Kling would give no opinion as to the possible outcome of the meeting to be held Monday.

According to reports here, only 20 mines of the state were in operation and these were working with reduced forces.

Coal production was virtually on a standstill in Indiana fields today, owing to the unauthorized strike of day men.

headquarters of the United Mine Workers of Indiana show just about 10 percent of the mines in the state were in operation.

The day men who comprise about 30 percent of the 30,000 miners in Indiana, went on strike because they were not in favor of the awards of President Wilson's coal commission and because the United Mine Workers scale committee failed to reach an agreement at Cleveland last week.

The walkout continued to spread today. Union officials and mine operators were optimistic.

William Rainey, vice-president of the union district No. 11, which comprises the Indiana fields, said that the strike will be brought to an end within a few days. He stated that where the United Mine Workers have organized, it does not sanction the action of the miners who have left their work.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 21.—Three men were killed early today when a lake bound freight train was derailed, 15 miles south of Kalamazoo. The killed are the engineer, fireman and brakeman, all of Elkhart, Ind.

Twenty-four cars went off the track when the engine struck a derailed which had been sent up against it.

BOY HIT BY AUTO IS NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Nolen Mathews, Age Five, Has Narrow Escape From Death in Accident in Circleville

WIFE OF THE DRIVER FAINTS

Nolen Mathews, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mathews living in Circleville, had a narrow escape yesterday, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Wallace Moore, and after being thrown under the machine, the small boy escaped with only minor injuries and scratches.

The small boy and an older brother were along the road searching for clover for a pet rabbit, and the younger boy darted across the road in the path of the oncoming automobile. When the machine stopped, the boy was laying in a heap along the roadside, and was thought to be fatally injured, but after medical attention was had, he was revived, and was found to be only slightly injured.

The accident happened on the Millroy road, just beyond the intersection of the New Salem road in Circleville. Besides Mr. Moore, he was accompanied by his wife, who fainted and suffered intensely from the shock, requiring medical attention also.

FREE CHAUTAUQUA FOR 1921 ASSURED

Milroy People Pledge More Money For Next Year Than Was Raised This Year

CHAUTAUQUA IS SUCCESS.

Milroy people were satisfied today that the first attempt at a free chautauqua was a success and they have already pledged more for another one like it in 1921 than was subscribed for the assembly this year.

It was reported today that more than $1,500 had been promised for next year's chautauqua and that probably more subscriptions would be forthcoming. A sum slightly in excess of $1,400 was raised at the chautauqua Thursday night.

It is expected that there will be a balance left over from this year. The talent only cost $1,150 and it was stated that over $1,300 was pledged.

The chautauqua closed last night with a lecture by J. Adam Bede, which was pronounced by many patrons as the best thing on the program. It was stated today that the program improved as it progressed and that the last two days were much better than the first part of the week.

BOY KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

Petersburg, Ind., Aug. 21.—When playing with playmates in front of the Thornton Orphans' Home, in this city, late yesterday, Henry Shaw, age nine, a son of Mrs. Margaret Shaw met instant death. The Shaw boy, who was an inmate of the home, had climbed a telephone pole close to the sidewalk. On reaching the top his hand came in contact with a live wire and he was knocked to the ground, striking on a concrete walk.

While the house was in recess Judge Newman, issued an injunction to prevent Governor Roberts, Speakers Tobb and Walker and Secretary of State Steven, from certifying ratification to the department of state at Washington.

PICKPOCKETS BUSY

AT FAYETTE FAIR

J. F. Wilson of Knightstown Loses $80 in a Wad of Bills in Crowd at Fair Thursday

FAYETTE FARMER HIT TOO

Louis Berger Reports Loss of His Pocketbook Containing $14—Suspects Make Getaway

Connerville, Aug. 21.—Two visitors at the Free Fair yesterday came away without their pocketbooks.

The heavier loser was J. F. Wilson of Knightstown, Indiana, who was touched for his purse containing $80 in cash, some checks and other valuable papers.

Louis Berger, prominent farmer residing two miles southwest of Connerville, was relieved of $14 in cash.

The pickpocket assailed Mr. Wilson near the north entrance of the amphitheatre. He purchased a ticket during the rush which preceded the opening heats and, in so doing, opened his pocketbook, unthoughtfully showing the corners of a roll of green backs. He was evidently spotted by the sharks at that moment. He made his loss known a few moments later but had no idea as to who had taken the money.

Pickpockets always work in dense crowds and it was in the jam which stormed the water fountain, north of the Amphitheatre, that Mr. Berger lost his roll. Mr. Berger said he felt someone crowding him, shoving and pulling at his clothes. As soon as he got out of the swarm he missed his purse.

He began a sharp lookout in the crowd and it was only five or ten minutes before he had located three men whom, he believes, were the ones who got his money. He watched the strangers and states that he saw them surround two other persons, push and wedge them in the crowd and then rifle their pockets.

Believing that he had sufficient evidence against the scoundrels, Mr. Berger had another party to keep watch over them while he summoned an officer. He found Patrolman Jones, who went to the scene, but the three men had disappeared.

Patrolman Jones and Chief Koch were hot on the trail of the men all afternoon. They believe, however, that they were recognized as officers, for none of the suspected men made any suspicious movement while they were under observation.

LOWER HOUSE VOTES NOT TO RECONSIDER

While it Was in Recess Judge Newman Enjoins State Officials From Certifying Ratification

A PARLIAMENTARY DEBATE

(By United Press)

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 21.—In the midst of a parliamentary debate, suffrage members of the lower house of the Tennessee legislature this afternoon voted against the reconsideration of the resolution ratifying the suffrage amendment.

Anti-suffrage members contended that no quorum was present and therefore it was impossible to transact business. There were fifty ayes in the vote.

After the vote the suffragists rang the liberty bell, contending that they had won their fight. The vote was taken amidst scenes of confusion. The house will adjourn until Monday. When the lower house this morning met no business was transacted because there was no quorum present. There were fifty-nine members present, seven less than a quorum.

While the house was in recess Judge Newman, issued an injunction to prevent Governor Roberts, Speakers Tobb and Walker and Secretary of State Steven, from certifying ratification to the department of state at Washington.

REDS DRIVEN BACK

FOR THIRTY MILES

Fifteen Thousand Russian Prisoners Are Taken in Polish Counter Attacks.

ADDITIONAL DEMANDS MADE

Soviets Insist Poles Shall not Allow Foreign Troops on Their Soil—Blow by Wrangel.

(By United Press)

Warsaw, Aug. 21.—The Russians have been driven back from Warsaw at least 30 miles on all points, it was reported today. The Russian cavalry has opened attacks to capture Lublin and are operating within 15 miles of that city, it was stated.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The Poles have taken 15,000 Bolshevik prisoners up until Wednesday, the French foreign office announced today.

Fierce fighting was reported in progress along the river Bug, near Brest Litovsk, it was stated.

London, Aug. 21.—Additional demands have been made of the Poles by the Russians, according to the terms submitted at Minsk yesterday and made public here by M. Kemenoff, Bolshevik trade commissioner.

These demands, which heretofore had not been made public, included:

Creation of a Polish militia composed of workers to be armed with surplus munitions, demanded from the Poles by the Russians.

Poland shall not allow troops of any foreign state to enter or remain in Polish territory.

Poland shall return all stock, removed from Russian territory.

The remainder of the terms are the same as those transmitted to Premier Lloyd George several weeks ago and which he advised the Poles to accept.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Bolshevik fortifications in South Russia at the entrance to the Dnieper river have been destroyed by forces of General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader, the state department was advised today.

The United States government is gathering circumstantial evidence surrounding the alliance or understanding between Germany and Soviet Russia, it was learned today.

While Washington has no proof of such an alliance, additional reports indicating its existence, have been received. However, the strictest secrecy is observed regarding these reports.

It is probable that if there is found a pact to the prejudice of the allies, the fact will be made public.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Bolshevik fortifications in South Russia at the entrance to the Dnieper river have been destroyed by forces of General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader, the state department was advised today.

This part of the election law is regarded as especially important since women have been enfranchised because they were not familiar with it.

If a voter moves out of the township in which he now lives after September 1, he will lose his vote on November 2. He must live in the precinct in which he votes for thirty days previous to the election and must have been a resident of the state in which he votes for at least six months.

These are the facts that are being impressed upon the voters of the county by the political organizations because it is essential that they be remembered. Many voters, it is declared, are under the impression that they only have to live in a township for thirty days before the election in order to vote. This is not the case and voters are warned that if they move into another township after September 1, they will not be entitled to vote, no matter if they do comply with the registration law in every particular.

The registration law is regarded as especially important since women have been enfranchised because they were not familiar with it.

The senior member of the board, in this county the republican clerk, will call at the county auditor's office for the supplies and will return them to the same place immediately following the sessions of the registration boards. The senior members of the boards will receive $9 for their work in addition to mileage at the rate of five cents a mile. The democratic clerks will receive $6 for their labor.

The registration boards will be in session in each precinct from eight o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock at night and no person of voting age will be allowed to vote unless he or she registers either on September 4 or October 4.

After the registration blanks are all turned over to the county auditor, he will copy the names of all voters who are recorded as registering. A copy of the names will be made for each of the two leading political parties. This policy will be followed after each registration.

The registration clerks are as follows, the republican being named first:

Ripley—Precinct 1, R. Edgar Henley and Thomas Gray. Precinct 2—Fred Brooks and Noah F. Leisure.

Precinct 3—Byron Ball and Roy Herkless.

Posey—Precinct 1, Frank Lawrence and John Starks. Precinct 2, A. W. Rigsby and James M. Cross.

FARMERS FORM UNION TO MAKE MONEY LOANS

Headquarters Will be Established in Washington to Take Care of Loans Under Federal Law

COMPRIZE 4,000 ASSOCIATIONS

Washington, Aug. 21—National organization of the Co-operative Farmer Borrowers of the United States into a voluntary self-help movement, with headquarters in Washington, is now under way. These borrowers represent 4,000 farm loan associations already organized under the federal farm loan act. They will first form into state unions from which will be organized the national union.

The movement for such organization has arisen out of the situation facing the federal farm loan system, the activities of which are now halted because of a suit to test the constitutionality of the act now pending in the United States supreme court. A statement, covering the purposes for which the new union is being formed, says the plan of the national union of farm loan associations provides that it shall be democratically organized on a voluntary basis by the local farm loan associations. These locals will form into state unions as soon as conventions can be held. At the conventions delegates will be selected to attend a national convention. This national convention will be called when ten state unions have been formed.

500 REFUGEES LIVE IN RAILROAD YARDS

Poles Stranded in Latvia Will be Taken Care of by American Red Cross Until War Passes

WERE ENROUTE FOR HOME

(By United Press)

Riga, Latvia, (By Mail).—Over five hundred men, women and children are stranded here with no means of livelihood, as a result of the fighting in Poland.

They are former soldiers, with their wives and children, from the scattered ranks of General Yudenich's White Army. The refugees reached Riga, on the way to their homes in Eastern Poland and the Ukraine, when word came that the frontiers of East Poland were closed.

The train in which the refugees arrived was held up in the Riga yards for several days, awaiting an opportunity to proceed, but was finally taken over by the Lettish army for military transport, while its definite passengers were housed in nearby barracks.

Ever since the arrival of the train the American Red Cross has been operating a field kitchen in the railway yards and feeding the stranded Poles and Ukrainians who reached Riga with neither money nor food.

In view of the situation along the East Polish frontier, it is feared that the Yudenich veterans and their families may be forced to prolong their stay in Latvia for several weeks. The Red Cross is making arrangements to continue caring for them during the enforced stopover.

A Stitch in Time

"The public should be forewarned and forearmed against any attempts to take advantage of the freight rate advance for the purpose of justifying profiteering."

This statement by the Pennsylvania railroad is a note of warning that every effort should be made to forestall any efforts to advance prices and use the advanced freight rates as an excuse. There has been a general fear expressed that unscrupulous dealers would take advantage of the situation to boost the selling prices of articles. In order that the public generally may understand stand to just what extent the increase freight rates affects the price of a commodity, facts are being placed before the people.

"American Railroads", published by the authority of the Association of Railway Executives, presents some figures to show that freight is a very small item in the cost of an article and urges that attempts to excuse big advances on the theory that they are due to increased freight rates, be discouraged by the consumer.

Such a presentation has not been possible in many other instances, particularly in the case of the excess-profits tax. Manufacturers naturally took their taxes into consideration when they fixed their prices. The excess profits tax affected different concerns in a varying degree. When people complained of prices, "war tax" was the brief but incontrovertible explanation. Every time a commodity changed hands it had a little more added to its price because of "war taxes", and it is the general impression that each man who added the tax added a margin of additional profit for himself.

However that may be, it is practicable to determine with a fair degree of definiteness what additional amount can be justified in fixing prices on account of increased freight rates. It is shown, for instance, from railroad reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission, that the annual freight bill is in the neighborhood of $4,000,000,000 and it is estimated that the value of the commodities carried is about $80,000,000. That means that the freight paid averages about 5 percent of the value of the commodities. That is five cents on the dollar's worth of goods. An increase of 26 percent in freight rates means less than one and a half cents on a dollar's worth of goods.

Many who comment upon the subject declare that from a practical standpoint it will devolve largely upon the railroads themselves to protect the country from a new upward movement of prices unjustly attributed to increased freight rates. It is pointed out that if unreasonable price advances are made on the claim that the increases are made necessary by freight rates, the effect will be to create prejudice against the railroads and their managers. In order to protect themselves against such an undesirable outcome, it is urged that if unconscionable increases are made on this pretext, the railroads should make public the exact extent to which increased prices are justified.

From no part of the country has there come any protest against the increase in freight rates. It is recognized that for a long time the income of the railroads, under rates kept down by the Interstate Commerce Commission, has been inadequate. Increases in cost of operation due to increased wages and costs of materials, have made the income still more inadequate, and an advance of freight and passenger rates was necessary in order to enable the roads to continue to operate at all. Since the roads have been returned to private ownership, the number of employees has been reduced and other economies will be effected, so that the charge upon the public will be relatively less than would be the case under continued government operation, during which a part of the railroad income was made up from the United States treasury and paid by the people in federal taxes.

Mark Sullivan, the political correspondent, says that as between the sources of support upon which Candidates Cox and Harding drew, he would prefer that of the republican majority in the senate rather than a small coterie of machine bosses to whom Cox is indebted for the nomination. Mr. Cox opened the argument by accusing the senate "oligarchy" of dictating the nomination of Mr. Harding and he is going to learn to his sorrow, before the campaign is over, that people who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

Taxes That Hurt

(Philadelphia Press)

Both Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge have contended for a lowering of excess profits taxes, in public addresses, as a means of encouraging production and thereby reducing the excessive cost of living. Both are in line with the best thought of producers and those who can best understand from experience what is one of the grave troubles of the country at this time, and is an obstruction to industrial readjustment.

The whole crude and hastily devised system of Federal taxation clearly must be revised. The income and excess profits taxes are a burden on production, and tends to check industry, when industry is most necessary. Governor Coolidge has pointed out the advisability of using the tariff more intelligently as a source of revenue, and Senator Harding indicated the wisdom of such a policy in his front porch speech on Saturday. Under Republican Congress, the people's tax burden will be lightened as much as conditions will permit.

Obligations imposed on the country by the war will compel high taxation for an indefinite time, but it must be made as equitable as possible. Democratic statesmanship either does not know how to do this, or it does not care to do it. The policy of their party is to raise an unreasonable share of the national revenue by internal taxation. With all the increased expense and debt the Government is compelled to carry and must carry, for nobody can say how long high internal taxation will be necessary, but it must be readjusted. It need not be crude and repressing of business and productive activity.

When the Democratic party came into power the country was at peace and practically there was no internal taxation except on liquors and tobacco. No war was in sight. There was not at the time a need of greater revenue than was realized by the tax laws that had been enacted under Republican Administration. But the Democrats had a policy all their own. They proceeded at once to throw away several hundred millions of customs duties, and to make up the loss by imposing direct taxes. It was unusual in time of peace, and with only ordinary demands on the country, but it was the Democratic policy.

Republican revision of the country's revenue system will essentially make more intelligent use of the tariff, to encouragement of production. It will by so much lessen the internal levy, which has been so crudely and unsystematically made as to discourage capital from investment in industry, and thereby hamper production. Since under circumstances now existing there must be internal taxation, justice requires that it shall not be compelled to bear more than its reasonable share of the revenue burden merely to maintain a Democratic economic fallacy.

REPORTS SHOWS MANY EX-SOLDIERS IN NEED

Co-Operative League, With Branches in Every State, Find Many Disabled Men in Dire Straights

PLAN FOR BETTER FACILITIES

New York, Aug. 21.—Reports gathered by representatives of the Ex-Service Men's Co-Operative League, which has branches in practically every State in the Union, show that hundreds of men who fought overseas in the A. E. F. are in desperate straits because they were disabled and have not been made the allowances given them by the Government to balance their expenditures because of the high cost of living. A report is being prepared, showing that many men, who took no interest in the bonus agitation formerly are urging action by Congress because they have felt the pinch of present conditions. The League is going to send out workers during the presidential campaign to secure more members, while working for the various tickets in the field. The appeal for the soldiers will be made on a purely non-partisan platform and in this way has been promised the support of many leading men of both parties. The Ex-Service Men's Co-Operative League plans an extensive campaign in the interest of men who served the United States in France. Its programme includes better educational facilities, uplift work, a national exchange for the development of helpful ideas among the men and an employment bureau. Members of the League achieving conspicuous success in any given line will have their achievements featured for the inspiration of other members. The League also plans to supply the Government with lecturers against the dangerous "isms" which speakers of ultra-radical organizations are spreading in the cities, towns and hamlets of the United States.

Along with Mexicali, across the border from Calexico, Tia Juana, only seventeen miles from San Diego, has grown in importance as the center of racing, drinking and gambling, until it has become internationally famous.

Now the prosperous American concessionaires are facing the problem of disposing of property worth millions of dollars in the way of liquor stocks, gambling halls, and other sideshows of the sporting world.

Under the rulership of Governor Cantu, both the state government and concessionaires have enjoyed tremendous profits, particularly after January 16, 1920. Now Governor Cantu is faced with political extinction, while owners of large liquor stocks fear their property will be confiscated by the Mexican federal government.

Americans here point out that the virtually independent rule of the province by Governor Cantu, under which drinking and vice resorts flourished, has been a thorn in the side of the de la Huerta government, for months. The de facto government, following the flight of President Carranza, placed rigid restrictions on resorts along the Texas and Arizona border. Cantu, however, refused to follow central government orders to close Tia Juana and Mexicali.

Thousands of tourists have annually visited here, some of them avowedly on "slumming parties", others to escape the great American drought. During the "hundred days" of racing here last winter, sportsmen from all parts of the country, including all classes of followers of the turf sport, made this their headquarters.

Mexicali has enjoyed similar "wide-open" conditions. The "Owl", famous gambling resort of that city, is known to gamblers as one of the most unrestricted houses in the world.

Now, however, that the rule of the federal government appears to be about to extend over this territory, old timers are sadly shaking their heads and murmuring, "it is bound to come".

"Passing of another oasis" seems a fitting characterization of the latest change in Lower California.

"Passing of Another Oasis" Seems Characterization of Latest Change in Lower California

Tia Juana, Lower California, August 21—Passage of this famous gambling and racing center, long the mecca of American sportsmen and tourists, loomed today as the outcome of peace negotiations between the Mexican federal government and Governor Esteban Cantu, Lower California chief executive through several Mexican revolutions.

Along with Mexicali, across the border from Calexico, Tia Juana, only seventeen miles from San Diego, has grown in importance as the center of racing, drinking and gambling, until it has become internationally famous.

Now the prosperous American concessionaires are facing the problem of disposing of property worth millions of dollars in the way of liquor stocks, gambling halls, and other sideshows of the sporting world.

FORGED NOTES FOUND HIDDEN IN THE BANK

Pretended Papers and Notes Are Found by Receiver for Milton Bank Which Recently Failed

WILL MAKE GOOD DEFICITS

Milton, Ind., Aug. 21—Tangled affairs of the Farmers Bank, of Milton, which recently caused Oscar M. Kirlin, cashier, to commit suicide, have been found to be further involved during an investigation by Claude S. Kitterman, of Cambridge City, receiver. Forged notes, bad loans and other papers have been found hidden in the bank building.

Willard F. Williams a farmer here, is named as obligee in a note forged by Kirlin. Williams also was placed as surety on a note drawn on Robert DuGraerut for more than $5,000.

Kirlin is said to have been authorized by depositors of the bank to pay taxes for them, but the investigation has disclosed that, while the taxes have all been paid at the Courthouse, no credit has been given on the bank's books.

The passbooks of depositors are now being returned. The receiver, it is said, will soon make a payment of part of each claim filed. It has been announced that the bank will pay "every dollar of its indebtedness."

Lingerie To Be A Fad of Fashion

By "MARJORIE"
(Written for United Press.)

The regular meeting of the Tri Kappa sorority will be held Monday evening at six o'clock at the home of Miss Mary Williams west of the city.

Mrs. Robert Borem entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Steffy last evening at her home in North Arthur street with a fried chicken six o'clock dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brecheisen and family had as their guests yesterday evening and today, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brecheisen and family of Muskogee, Oklahoma. They made the trip by automobile and will start on the return trip this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Sparks entertained at dinner Thursday evening in honor of Donald Sparks, who is visiting here from Salt Lake City. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kirkpatrick and Robert Humes.

Miss Sue Kemble and Mrs. Belle Campbell entertained at dinner Wednesday at their home in Greensburg, Miss Elsie Thomas of this city and Edward Thomas of Milroy, in honor of their house guests, the Rev. and Mr. Stanley R. Grubbs of Athens, Ga., Mrs. Elizabeth Grubbs and Miss Elizabeth Miller of Indianapolis.

Miss Golda Cheek entertained last evening at her home in West Sixth street with a slumber party, honoring her house guest, Miss Mildred Bogue of Monticello, Ind. The evening was spent in games and music. The guests were the Misses Marie Sterrett, May Manning, Edna Waggoner, Mildred Mary and the honored guest, Miss Bogue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy entertained last evening at their home west of the city with a reception honoring their daughter Lavonne, who was recently married to Carl Dearinger. The rooms were tastefully decorated with baskets and vases of summer flowers. One hundred and five guests were present, including one out-of-town guest, Nina Heath of Crawfordsville. Mr. and Mrs. Dearinger received many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller Whitaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Miller of Carthage and Walter G. Brosius, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Brosius of Knightstown, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of the Rev. R. T. Jones at Knightstown. Those witnessing the ceremony were Mrs. G. D. Miller and Mrs. W. G. Brosius. The young couple left on a trip to the northern lakes. They will be at home after September 1, in their newly furnished home in Knightstown. The bride has been engaged in dressmaking at Carthage and the bridegroom is proprietor of the Brosius Produce Company.

The last season's vogue of patterned lingerie which specialized in cerulean-hued bluebirds and butterflies is on the wane—probably because our Bluebird guest has been back on his native shores for some time. Whenever any pattern is used, it is some bizarre, weird creation such as a wriggling green snake, a garment-free cannibal or a bevy of alligators.

Petticoats are almost entirely superseded by pantaloons. It is considered very smart for these silken "pettis" to hang an inch or so below the skirt. The most chic effect is considered achieved if the panties are of a vivid contrasting color, be-ruffled or lace-edged. The bona fide petticoats have substituted deep fringes for ruffled flounces. The fringes are of the self-material and are deemed an aid to perambulation.

The yoke fad of 1830 is back in the vogue. It is prophesied that crocheting will step into the limelight once more as the most popular feminine indoor sport. However, the most elite yokes are of rare old lace or embroideries. Scalloped effects are very good, especially if the scallops are worked in some brilliant color.

FARMERS OFFICERS MEET

The officers and directors of the Rush County Farmers' association were here this afternoon for a meeting at which business pertaining to the county organization was to be discussed. Among the matters for discussion was the fertilizer proposition which has been presented to most of the township organizations. A good attendance was present this afternoon for the meeting, which was held in the court house.

REVENUE INSPECTOR SHOT

New York, Aug. 21.—The body of Robert Hayes, internal revenue inspector, shot twice through the head, was found early today sitting upright in a touring car parked at South Beach, Staten Island. Charles Kane of West New Brighton, owner of the automobile, informed the police that the car had been stolen from in front of a South Beach dance hall where he spent last evening with a party of friends.

FUNERAL THIS MORNING

Gwynneville Youth is Buried After Fatal Accident This Week

Funeral services for Bernay Moore, aged 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Moore of near Gwynneville, who expired Thursday morning from injuries sustained when he fell from the seat of a wagon while assisting his father with the farm work, were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Friend's church, south of Arlington, with the Rev. Luther Adington in charge.

Clarence, aged six, brother of the dead boy, is in a serious condition, having lapsed into unconsciousness after being told of the death of his brother.

Lingerie To Be A Fad of Fashion

By "MARJORIE"

(Written for United Press.)

New York, Aug. 21.—The lower world of fashion will be quite as gorgeous and elaborate for this oncoming season as the upper strata. Do not be confused. We are not saying that the Bowery will go forth swathed in rich garments of metallic lace and brocade that will put even the fashion denizens of Fifth Avenue to shame. The comparison lies between Milady's sumptuous outer garments and the inner layer of intimate "undies" which the stage has taught us to roughly classify as lingerie.

It is no exaggeration to say that a proper inner wardrobe from the epidermis to the outer layer will cost as pretty a penny this year as the suit coat, or dress that conceals all this hidden treasure. Never has there been such a season of riotously rich and lovely lingerie. For the Gotham upper crust it means real jewels, old lace, ribbons of great price, hand-work involving years of labor in some far-off Eastern land novel and freakish effects in embroidery and divers trimmings, and—most noticeable of all—a scarcity of background for all this applied wealth.

"Lingerie shall cost much and be little," is the slogan of the inner garment makers. They say that the fitted lines of outer apparel make this shortage of inner material a necessity, and that since lingerie shall be largely absent, what remains shall atone in beauty and richness.

Negligees are the most opulent of all lingerie. Good taste fixes no limit to the money that can be put within these boudoir confections. A leading Fifth Avenue house shows a model of heavy, lustrous peach satin with an overdrapery of the finest Chantilly lace. Atop of this is a Mandarin jacket of baby blue over georgette lined with cloth of silver. Festoons of genuine seed pearls drip from the loose sleeves. The skirt is pantaloons style, and the wearer is guaranteed a ticket of admission to the most exacting harem.

Teddies and nighties favor the vogue of pastel-shaded linens and other fine cotton fabrics. Apple blossom pinks, baby blues, lemon, apple-leaf green, and orchid are favorite colors. These cottons are favored with costly handwork rather than much applied trimming. One three-figured nightie flaunts twenty rows of handtufting, six bands of drawndown, about six feet of a hand embroidered floral motif, and a ribbon drawstring that alone is valued at twenty dollars a yard.

The last season's vogue of patterned lingerie which specialized in cerulean-hued bluebirds and butterflies is on the wane—probably because our Bluebird guest has been back on his native shores for some time. For the regular manicure, the nails should be filed to shape and rubbed with cold cream, after the fingers have been held in soapy warm water. Then the loose skin is scraped off with edge of the file, the cuticle cut or pushed back, and all the hard skin cut away from the sides, till the nail appears a perfect oval, set in the finger. Then the bleach is put under the nail, if any is needed, the polish is put on, and the nail is polished with a buffer rubbed with chalk. Then all rouge and powder is washed off gently, and the nail, pink and perfect, receives its final polish by rubbing it against the palm of the hand.

Don't Burn Good Fuel in a Poor Stove.

TAKE

PEPSINCO

It's a useless waste of good fuel and needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness, if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment; if your food does you no good; if food distresses, rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEPSINCO.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

Movies and the Eyes

There is no evidence to prove that the "movies" are imperiling the sight of the nation. Careful investigation leads to the opposite conclusion.

Recent improvements and greater care in operating the projecting machines have almost entirely eliminated the mechanical defects, so you may be quite certain that when your eyes trouble you while viewing moving pictures, it is due, not to the pictures, but to defective eyes which call for optometry's aid.

The person with normal eyes will not suffer at picture shows unless visited to excess. At the very first indication of eye trouble call and let us make a careful, scientific examination of your eyes.

HOME BREWERS BUY PROTEST RATES ON COMMODITIES

Almost All of 30,000 Tons Yielded Will Find Way to Stills of Home-Brewers

GO INTO NEW AREAS THIS YEAR

Grape Growers Are Assured Highest Price Ever Paid Them For Their Largest Crop

(By United Press)

Lawton, Mich., Aug. 21.—The fluid to be pressed from the greatest grape yield in the history of Michigan's vast arbor acreage will lose its identity in nectars of home in-genuity.

Home brewers are demanding all the grape juice they can get for their favorite concoctions. And when William Jennings Bryan, as he spoke to Chautauqua audiences, prophesied the juice of the Concord would soon become the beverage of the nation, he was partly right—partly only—because he did not conceive of a nation countenancing home brew.

According to Mrs. Fern McPherson, manager of the Southern Michigan Fruit Grower's Association, almost all the 30,000 tons of grapes yielded by the arbors of the member-growers will find its way to stills of home brewers.

"We will harvest about 90 percent of the grapes from arbors within an area of fifty square miles", said Mrs. McPherson. "Orders have been coming in for weeks from home brewers from as far west as Denver, as far south as Texas and Memphis and from several eastern cities as New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Michigan grapes go into new areas this year, notably sections hit by the Eighteenth amendment.

"Our clients tell us they must have grapes at any price. For instance New York and New Jersey buyers want options on the whole output. We have analyzed this new demand. Invariably the answer comes back to us, confidentially, that home brewers have written grapes into their recipes".

Last year only sixty percent of the yield was marketable, and in 1918, only thirty-three percent.

Grapes wholesaled at $110 a ton last year. They may go to $150 a ton this year, says Mrs. McPherson.

Concerns here manufacturing grapejades and jellies will run to capacity. A well-known manufacturer is opening a plant here to manufacture grape juice.

Grape growers are assured the highest price ever paid them for their largest crop. Weather has favored grape growing—just enough rain and cool weather. The yield, according to the State Agricultural Department is ninety-one percent and the highest on record.

WILL OUTLINE LABOR POLICIES AT MEETING

State Federation of Labor Will Make Plans For Next Year at 4 Meetings in Evansville

ALL SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 21.—Labor policies for next year will be generally outlined at four important labor meetings to be held here next week.

The convention holding the center of the state will be that of the Indiana State Federation of Labor, which will be opened August 26 to continue through the 28th. Between 650 and 700 delegates are expected to be here for the meeting, representing 85,000 workers.

"The convention will be the largest ever held by the state federation," said Adolph Frits, secretary. "Many new members have been added within the last year and many important measures will come before it."

First on the week's program will be the state conventions of the plumbers and painters unions, which will be held on Monday. Each will be attended by more than one hundred delegates.

On Tuesday, the State Buildings Trades Council will meet in two day convention. This will attract approximately 200 delegates.

Coal, Brick, Limestone and Other Low Grade Commodities Are Included in Their Protest

NAVAL RESERVISTS TO BE SENT TO TURKEY

Cruiser St. Louis and 6 Destroyers to Leave Sept. 8 to Protest U. S. Interests in Near East

TO MAKE NEW ENROLLMENTS

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 21.—Naval reservists in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Vermont may see service and possible action in Turkish waters with the supplemental naval forces to be sent to protect American interest in the Near East, sailing about September 8. The cruiser St. Louis and six destroyers, Brooks, Kane, Gilmer, Humphries, Fox and Averton, are being outfitted for this duty.

Captain J. W. Timmons, in charge of the third naval district reserve forces, with headquarters at the fleet supply base in Brooklyn, is authorized by the navy department "to accept reservists and make new enrollments in Reserve Force, provided applicants agree to serve not less than twelve months nor more than eighteen months on this duty," under orders just received.

The six vessels comprising division 27 of the destroyer squadron for which special efforts are being made to obtain recruits, are the fastest in the world, having attained a speed of 44 miles an hour at sea. The squadron will be under the command of Captain E. D. Thelen, with the St. Louis as flagship.

Applications for this short term re-enlistment from reservists are being received by Captain Timmons and must be made not later than Tuesday, September 7. New enrollments also will be accepted. The men selected will receive transportation and subsistence to and from their homes, as well as active duty pay at the new increased rate.

rates are unjustifiably honeycombed with inequalities, so much so that they are in violation of Sections 5537 and 5544 of Burn's Revised Statutes of 1914; and that to permit the increase to the coal rates proposed by the carriers before such rates are brought to the proper level and the discriminations removed, would perpetuate a violation of the statutes mentioned, and result in a further unjust burden to Indiana interests."

The above statement also applies to such commodities as brick, crushed stone, fluxing stone, agricultural limestone, ground limestone, sand and gravel and other low grade commodities.

The State Chamber will have the co-operation of a number of local commercial organizations, individuals and firms throughout the State.

In view of the long drawn-out fight of the State Chamber for the elimination of discriminatory freight rates, the results of the filing of the protest will be awaited with unusual interest.

A. N. Newbold, of West Eleventh street, had a small piece of steel removed from an eye yesterday afternoon, which had caused him severe pain for almost a week. He was engaged in unloading coal last Tuesday, and it is presumed that a small piece of steel penetrated his eye close to the pupil, and an examination yesterday revealed what was causing the pain. Dr. F. H. Green performed the minor operation and the piece of steel had to be removed in two pieces. Mr. Newbold was greatly improved today.

Ed Stewart, President of Indiana
District, Issues Instructions to 240 Locals

COAL OPERATORS CALLED
Will Meet Monday to Consider Formally The Proposal For a New Wage Agreement

By United Press

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 21.—Striking coal miners who have tied up Indiana fields for two days were ordered today to return to work immediately by Ed Stewart, president of the United Mine Workers for the Indiana district.

Telegrams were sent to 240 local unions in Indiana directing the miners to resume work pending the outcome of the meeting of the miners and operators covering Indiana, which was called for 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Members of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators association will meet Monday night to formally consider the proposal of taking up a new wage agreement with striking mine workers, it was announced today.

Officials of the association are powerless to negotiate a new agreement without the vote of the association, according to A. R. Kling, publicity agent.

Kling would give no opinion as to the possible outcome of the meeting to be held Monday.

According to reports here, only 20 mines of the state were in operation and these were working with reduced forces.

Coal production was virtually on a standstill in Indiana fields today, owing to the unauthorized strike of day men.

headquarters of the United Mine Workers of Indiana show just about 10 percent of the mines in the state were in operation.

The day men who comprise about 30 percent of the 30,000 miners in Indiana, went on strike because they were not in favor of the awards of President Wilson's coal commission and because the United Mine Workers scale committee failed to reach an agreement at Cleveland last week.

The walkout continued to spread today. Union officials and mine operators were optimistic.

William Rainey, vice-president of the union district No. 11, which comprises the Indiana fields, said that the strike will be brought to an end within a few days. He stated that where the United Mine Workers have organized, it does not sanction the action of the miners who have left their work.

BOY HIT BY AUTO IS NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Nolen Mathews, Age Five, Has Narrow Escape From Death in Accident in Circleville

WIFE OF THE DRIVER FAINTS

Nolen Mathews, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mathews living in Circleville, had a narrow escape yesterday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Wallace Moore, and after being thrown under the machine, the small boy escaped with only minor injuries and scratches.

The small boy and an older brother were along the road searching for clover for a pet rabbit, and the younger boy darted across the road in the path of the oncoming automobile. When the machine stopped, the boy was laying in a heap along the roadside, and was thought to be fatally injured, but after medical attention was had, he was revived, and was found to be only slightly injured.

The accident happened on the Millroy road, just beyond the intersection of the New Salem road in Circleville. Besides Mr. Moore, he was accompanied by his wife, who fainted and suffered intensely from the shock, requiring medical attention also.

FREE CHAUTAUQUA FOR 1921 ASSURED

Milroy People Pledge More Money For Next Year Than Was Raised This Year

CHAUTAUQUA IS SUCCESS.

Milroy people were satisfied today that the first attempt at a free chautauqua was a success and they have already pledged more for another one like it in 1921 than was subscribed for the assembly this year.

It was reported today that more than $1,500 had been promised for next year's chautauqua and that probably more subscriptions would be forthcoming. A sum slightly in excess of $1,400 was raised at the chautauqua Thursday night.

It is expected that there will be a balance left over from this year. The talent only cost $1,150 and it was stated that over $1,300 was pledged.

The chautauqua closed last night with a lecture by J. Adam Bede, which was pronounced by many patrons as the best thing on the program.

It was stated today that the program improved as it progressed and that the last two days were much better than the first part of the week.

BOY KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

Petersburg, Ind., Aug. 21.—When playing with playmates in front of the Thorntown Orphans' Home, in this city, late yesterday, Henry Shaw, age nine, a son of Mrs. Margaret Shaw met instant death. The Shaw boy, who was an inmate of the home, had climbed a telephone pole close to the sidewalk. On reaching the top his hand came in contact with a live wire and he was knocked to the ground, striking on a concrete walk.

While the house was in recess Judge Newman, issued an injunction to prevent Governor Roberts, Speaker Tabb and Walker and Secretary of State Steven, from certifying ratification to the department of state at Washington.

PICKPOCKETS BUSY REDS DRIVEN BACK AT FAYETTE FAIR FOR THIRTY MILES

J. F. Wilson of Knightstown loses $80 in a Wad of Bills in Crowd at Fair Thursday

FAYETTE FARMER HIT TOO

Louis Berger Reports Loss of His Pocketbook Containing $14—Suspects Make Getaway

Connersville, Aug. 21.—Two visitors at the Free Fair yesterday came away without their pocketbooks.

The heavier loser was J. F. Wilson of Knightstown, Indiana, who was touched for his purse containing $80 in cash, some checks and other valuable papers.

Louis Berger, prominent farmer residing two miles southwest of Connorsville, was relieved of $14 in cash.

The pickpocket assailed Mr. Wilson near the north entrance of the amphitheatre. He purchased a ticket during the rush which preceded the opening heats and, in so doing, opened his pocketbook, unwittingly showing the corners of a roll of green backs. He was evidently spotted by the sharks at that moment. He made his loss known a few moments later but had no idea as to who had taken the money.

Pickpockets always work in dense crowds and it was in the jam which stormed the water fountain, north of the Amphitheatre, that Mr. Berger lost his roll. Mr. Berger said he felt someone crowding him, shoving and pulling at his clothes. As soon as he got out of the swarm he missed his purse.

He began a sharp lookout in the crowd and it was only five or ten minutes before he had located three men whom, he believes, were the ones who got his money. He watched the strangers and states that he saw them surround two other persons, push and wedge them in the crowd and then rifle their pockets.

Believing that he had sufficient evidence against the scoundrels, Mr. Berger had another party to keep watch over them while he summoned an officer. He found Patrolman Jones, who went to the scene, but the three men had disappeared.

Patrolman Jones and Chief Koch were hot on the trail of the men all afternoon. They believe, however, that they were recognized as officers, for none of the suspected men made any suspicious movement while they were under observation.

LOWER HOUSE VOTES NOT TO RECONSIDER

While it Was in Recess Judge Newman Enjoins State Officials From Certifying Ratification

A PARLIAMENTARY DEBATE

By United Press

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 21.—In the midst of a parliamentary debate, suffrage members of the lower house of the Tennessee legislature this afternoon voted against the reconsideration of the resolution ratifying the suffrage amendment.

Anti-suffrage members contended that no quorum was present and therefore it was impossible to transact business. There were fifty ayes in the vote.

After the vote the suffragists rang the liberty bell, contending that they had won their fight. The vote was taken amidst scenes of confusion. The house will adjourn until Monday. When the lower house this morning met no business was transacted because there was no quorum present. There were fifty-nine members present, seven less than a quorum.

While the house was in recess Judge Newman, issued an injunction to prevent Governor Roberts, Speaker Tabb and Walker and Secretary of State Steven, from certifying ratification to the department of state at Washington.

Formerly the association held only a two day session and met in December, but this year the meeting was moved up to October and increased to a three day session.

PLANS MADE TO REGISTER VOTERS

Registration Clerks Named
Precinct Registration Places
Fixed by Commissioners

SENIOR CLERK REPUBLICAN

He Acts as Inspector and Will Supply And Make Returns to Auditor's Office

The registration clerks were appointed and the registration places were fixed at a special meeting of the county board of commissioners Friday afternoon. The places for registering on September 4 and October 4 are practically the same as they have been for voting.

The appointments were made upon the recommendation of Pon R. H. republican county chairman, and John Wallace, democratic county chairman. The boards are organized under a new law which was enacted in 1919 and amended at the special session of the legislature.

As the republicans east more votes in this county for secretary of state in the last election, the republican county chairman is given the right under the law to name the senior member of the board who will serve as an inspector.

The democratic county chairman recommended two clerks for each precinct, in nearly every case the second one being a woman. He contended that they were entitled to two clerks, but the law says that two extra clerks may be appointed, if the county board deems it necessary, where there are more than five hundred voters in a precinct. By estimating the women voters it is not believed that any precinct in the county this year will have that number of voters.

The senior member of the board in this county the republican clerk will call at the county auditor's office for the supplies and will return them to the same place immediately following the sessions of the registration boards. The senior members of the boards will receive $9 for their work in addition to mileage at the rate of five cents a mile. The democratic clerks will receive $6 for their labor.

The registration boards will be in session in each precinct from eight o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock at night and no person of voting age will be allowed to vote unless he or she registers either on September 4 or October 4.

After the registration blanks are all turned over to the county auditor, he will copy the names of all voters who are recorded as registrants. A copy of the names will be made for each of the two leading political parties. This policy will be followed after each registration.

The registration clerks are as follows, the republican being named first:

Ripley—Precinct 1, R. Edgar Herley and Thomas Gray. Precinct 2, Fred Brooks and Noah F. Leisius. Precinct 3—Byron Ball and Roy Herkless.

Posey—Precinct 1, Frank Lawrence and John Starks. Precinct 2, A. W. Rigsby and James M. Cross. Walker—Precinct 1, Roy Parker and Sylvia Hodge. Precinct 2, Fred Miller and Fred Gross.

A Stitch in Time

The public should be forewarned and forearmed against any attempts to take advantage of the freight rate advance for the purpose of justifying profiteering.

This statement by the Pennsylvania railroad is a note of warning that every effort should be made to forestall any efforts to advance prices and use the advanced freight rates as an excuse. There has been a general fear expressed that unscrupulous dealers would take advantage of the situation to boost the selling prices of articles. In order that the public generally may under-

Mark Sullivan, the political correspondent, says that as between the sources of support upon which Candidates Cox and Harding drew, he would prefer that of the republican majority in the senate rather than a small coterie of machine bosses to whom Cox is indebted for the nomination. Mr. Cox opened the argument by accusing the senate "oligarchy" of dictating the nomination of Mr. Harding and he is going to learn to his sorrow, before the campaign is over, that people who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

Current Comment

Taxes That Hurt

(Philadelphia Press)

Both Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge have contended for a lowering of excess profits taxes in public addresses, as a means of encouraging production and thereby reducing the excessive cost of living.

Many who comment upon the subject declare that from a practical standpoint it will devolve largely upon the railroads themselves to protect the country from a new upward movement of prices unjustly attributed to increased freight rates. It is pointed out that if unreasonable price advances are made on the claim that the increases are made necessary by freight rates, the effect will be to create prejudice against the railroads and their managers.

In order to protect themselves against such an undesirable outcome, it is urged that if unconscionable increases are made on this pretext, the railroads should make public the exact extent to which increased prices are justified.

From no part of the country has there come any protest against the increase in freight rates. It is recognized that for a long time the income of the railroads, under rates kept down by the Interstate Commerce Commission, has been inadequate.

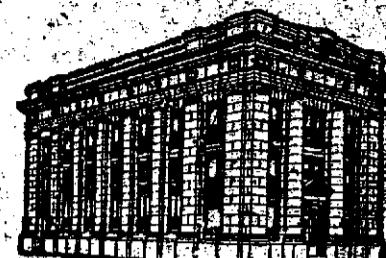

Increases in cost of operation due to increased wages and costs of materials, have made the income still more inadequate, and an advance of freight and passenger rates was necessary in order to enable the roads to continue to operate at all. Since the roads have been returned to private ownership, the number of employees has been reduced and other economies will be effected, so that the charge upon the public will be relatively less than would be the case under continued government operation, during which a part of the railroad income was made up from the United States treasury and paid by the people in federal taxes.

When the Democratic party came into power the country was at peace and practically there was no internal taxation except on liquors and tobacco. No war was in sight. There was not at the time a need of greater revenue than was realized by the tax laws that had been enacted under Republican Administration. But the Democrats had a policy all their own. They proceeded at once to throw away several hundred millions of customs duties, and to make up the loss by imposing direct taxes. It was unusual in time of peace, and with only ordinary demands on the country, but it was the Democratic policy.

Republican revision of the country's revenue system will essentially make more intelligent use of the tariff, to encouragement of production. It will by so much lessen the internal levy, which has been so crudely and unsystematically made as to discourage capital from investment in industry, and thereby hamper production. Since under circumstances now existing there must be internal taxation, justice requires that it shall not be compelled to bear more than its reasonable share of the revenue burden merely to maintain a Democratic economic fallacy.

Lingerie To Be A Fad of Fashion

By "MARJORIE"
(Written for United Press)

New York, Aug. 21.—The lower world of fashion will be quite as gorgeous and elaborate for this on-coming season as the upper strata. Do not be confused. We are not saying that the Bowery will go forth swathed in rich garments of metallic lace and brocade that will put even the fashion denizens of Fifth Avenue to shame. The comparison lies between Milady's sumptuous outer garments and the inner layer of intimate "undies" which the stage has taught us to roughly classify as lingerie.

It is no exaggeration to say that a proper inner wardrobe from the epidermis to the outer layer will cost as pretty a penny this year as the suit coat, or dress that conceals all this hidden treasure. Never has there been such a season of riotously rich and lovely lingerie. For the Gotham upper crust it means real jewels, old lace, ribbons of great price, hand-work involving years of labor in some far-off Eastern land novel and freakish effects in embroidery, and divers trimmings, and—most noticeable of all—a scarcity of background for all this applied wealth.

"Lingerie shall cost much and be little," is the slogan of the inner garment makers. They say that the fitted lines of outer apparel make this shortage of inner material a necessity, and that since lingerie shall be largely absent, what remains shall alone in beauty, and richness.

Negligees are the most opulent of all lingerie. Good taste fixes no limit to the money that can be put within these boudoir confections. A leading Fifth Avenue house shows a model of heavy, lustrous peach satin with an overdrapery of the finest Chantilly lace. Atop of this is a Mandarin jacket of baby blue over georgette lined with cloth of silver. Festoons of genuine seed pearls drip from the loose sleeves. The skirt is pantaloons style, and the wearer is guaranteed a ticket of admission to the most exacting harem.

Teddies and nighties favor the colors of pastel-shaded linens and other fine cotton fabrics. Apple blossom pink, baby blue, and apple-leaf green and French lavender colors. These colors are favorite colors. These colors are favored with costly handwork rather than much applied trimming. One three-quarter nightie flounces twenty rows of handstitching, six bands of drawstring, about six feet of a hand embroidered floral motif, and a ribbon drawstring that alone is valued at twenty dollars a yard.

The last season's vogue of patterned lingerie which specialized in cerulean-lined bluebirds and butterflies is on the wane—probably because our Bluebird guest has been back on his native shores for some time. Whenever any pattern is used, it is some bizarre, weird creation such as a wriggling green snake, a garment-free cannibal or a bevy of alligators.

Petticoats are almost entirely usurped by pantaloons. It is considered very smart for these silken "pettis" to hang an inch or so below the skirt. The most chic effect is considered achieved if the panties are of a vivid contrasting color, be-ruffled or lace-edged. The bona-fide petticoats have substituted deep fringes for ruffled flounces. The fringes are of the self-material, and are deemed an aid to perambulation.

The yoke fad of 1830 is back in the vogue. It is prophesied that crocheting will step into the limelight once more as the most popular feminine indoor sport. However, the most elite yokes are of rare old-lace or embroideries. Scalloped effects are very good, especially if the scallops are worked in some brilliant color.

PEPSINCO

It's a useless waste of good fuel and needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness, if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment; if your food does you no good; if food distresses, rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEPSINCO.

Movies and the Eyes

There is no evidence to prove that the "movies" are imperiling the sight of the nation. Careful investigation leads to the opposite conclusion.

Recent improvements and greater care in operating the projecting machines have almost entirely eliminated the mechanical defects, so you may be quite certain that when your eyes trouble you while viewing moving pictures, it is due, not to the pictures, but to defective eyes which call for optometry's aid.

The person with normal eyes will not suffer at picture shows unless visited to excess. At the very first indication of eye trouble call and let us make a careful, scientific examination of your eyes.

HOME BREWERS BUT PROTEST RATES MICHIGAN GRAPES ON COMMODITIES

Almost All of 30,000 Tons Yielded Will Find Way to Stills of Home Brewers

GO INTO NEW AREAS THIS YEAR

Grape Growers Are Assured Highest Price Ever Paid Them For Their Largest Crop

(By United Press)

Lawton, Mich., Aug. 21.—The fluid to be pressed from the greatest grape yield in the history of Michigan's vast arbor acreage will lose its identity in nectars of home in-genuity.

Home brewers are demanding all the grape juice they can get for their favorite concoctions. And when William Jennings Bryan, as he spoke to Chautauqua audiences, prophesied the juice of the Concord would soon become the beverage of the nation, he was partly right—partly only—because he did not conceive of a nation countenancing home brew.

According to Mrs. Fern McPherson, manager of the Southern Michigan Fruit Grower's Association, almost all the 30,000 tons of grapes yielded by the arbors of the member-growers will find its way to stills of home brewers.

"We will harvest about 90 percent of the grapes from arbors within an area of fifty square miles", said Mrs. McPherson. "Orders have been coming in for weeks from home brewers from as far west as Denver, as far south as Texas and Memphis and from several eastern cities as New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Michigan grapes go into new areas this year, notably sections hit by the Eighteenth amendment. "Our clients tell us they must have grapes at any price. For instance New York and New Jersey buyers want options on the whole output. We have analyzed this new demand. Invariably the answer comes back to us, confidentially, that home brewers have written grapes into their recipes".

Last year only sixty percent of the yield was marketable, and in 1918, only thirty-three percent. Grapes wholesaled at $110 a ton last year. They may go to $150 a ton this year, says Mrs. McPherson.

Concerns here manufacturing grapeades and jellies will run to capacity. A well-known manufacturer is opening a plant here to manufacture grape juice.

Grape growers are assured the highest price ever paid them for their largest crop. Weather has favored grape growing—just enough rain and cool weather. The yield, according to the State Agricultural Department is ninety-one percent and the highest on record.

WILL OUTLINE LABOR POLICIES AT MEETING

State Federation of Labor Will Make Plans For Next Year at 4 Meetings in Evansville

ALL SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 21.—Labor policies for next year will be generally outlined at four important labor meetings to be held here next week.

The convention holding the center of the stage will be that of the Indiana State Federation of Labor, which will be opened August 26 to continue through the 28th. Between 650 and 700 delegates are expected to be here for the meeting, representing 85,000 workers.

"The convention will be the largest ever held by the state federation," said Adolph Frits, secretary. "Many new members have been added within the last year and many important measures will come before it."

First on the week's program will be the state conventions of the plumbers and painters unions, which will be held on Monday. Each will be attended by more than one hundred delegates.

On Tuesday, the State Building Trades Council will meet in two day convention. This will attract approximately 200 delegates.

State Chamber of Commerce Will Oppose Proposed Increases on Interstate Freight Rates

HEARING ON AUGUST 23

Coal, Brick, Limestone and Other Low Grade Commodities Are Included in Their Protest

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—The Indiana State Chamber of Commerce has filed with the Indiana Public Service Commission, a protest against the proposed increase in class and commodity intrastate freight rates, as applied to coal, brick, limestone and other low grade commodities.

The protest will be a feature of the hearing before the Indiana Commission on Monday, August 23, when the railroads operating in Indiana will request an increase in intrastate freight rates to conform to increases in interstate rates recently granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In discussing the attitude of the State Chamber yesterday, B. R. Inman, Manager, and R. B. Coopstick, head of the Freight and Traffic Department, pointed out that the mere fact that the Interstate Commerce Commission had granted the carriers a material increase in interstate freight rates, does not necessarily mean that the Indiana Public Service Commission is warranted in granting similar increases in intrastate rates. Under ordinary conditions, they said such action might be justifiable; but certain extraordinary conditions, affecting Indiana shippers demand consideration before a blanket rate increase should be authorized by the Indiana commission.

In the protest filed by the State Chamber, it is pointed out that certain inequalities in freight rates, discriminating against Indiana shippers and to the undue advantage of Illinois shippers, should be adjusted before the proposed blanket rate increase is granted. The protest also sets out that; "Many of the Indiana coal rates are excessive and unreasonable, especially the so-called short hauls and the rate into the Gas Belt territory; that the Indiana concerns here manufacturing grapeades and jellies will run to capacity. A well-known manufacturer is opening a plant here to manufacture grape juice.

Grape growers are assured the highest price ever paid them for their largest crop. Weather has favored grape growing—just enough rain and cool weather. The yield, according to the State Agricultural Department is ninety-one percent and the highest on record.

TO MAKE NEW ENROLLMENTS

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 21.—Naval reservists in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Vermont may see service and possible action in Turkish waters with the supplemental naval forces to be sent to protect American interest in the Near East, sailing about September 8. The cruiser St. Louis and six destroyers, Brooks, Kane, Gilmer, Humphries, Fox and Averton, are being outfitted for this duty.

Captain J. W. Timmons, in charge of the third naval district reserve forces, with headquarters at the fleet supply base in Brooklyn, is authorized by the navy department "to accept reservists and make new enrollments in Reserve Force, provided applicants agree to serve not less than twelve months nor more than eighteen months on this duty," under orders just received.

The six vessels comprising division 27 of the destroyer squadron for which special efforts are being made to obtain recruits, are the fastest in the world, having attained a speed of 44 miles an hour at sea. The squadron will be under the command of Captain E. D. Thelen, with the St. Louis as flagship.

Applications for this short term re-enlistment from reservists are being received by Captain Timmons and must be made not later than Tuesday, September 7. New enrollments also will be accepted. The men selected will receive transportation and subsistence to and from their homes, as well as active duty pay at the new increased rate.

rates are unconstitutional, being unequal with inequalities, so much so, that they are in violation of Sections 554 and 5544 of the Indiana Revised Statute of 1914, and that to permit the increase to the coal rates proposed by the carriers before such rates are brought to the proper level, and the discriminations removed, would perpetuate a violation of the statutes mentioned, and result in a further unjust burden to Indiana.

The above statement also applies to such commodities as brick, crushed stone, fluxing stone, agricultural limestone, ground limestone, sand and gravel and other low grade commodities.

The State Chamber will have the co-operation of a number of local commercial organizations, individuals and firms throughout the State.

In view of the long drawn-out fight of the State Chamber for the elimination of discriminatory freight rates, the results of the filing of the protest will be awaited with unusual interest.

STEEL REMOVED FROM EYE

A. N. Newbold Recovered After Six Days For a Week

A. N. Newbold, railroad worker, 55, of Indianapolis, Indiana, was removed from an eye yesterday afternoon, which had caused him severe pain for almost a week. He was engaged in unloading coal last Tuesday, and it is presumed that a small piece of steel penetrated his eye close to the pupil, and an examination yesterday revealed what was causing the pain. Dr. F. H. Green performed the minor operation and the piece of steel had to be removed in two pieces. Mr. Newbold was greatly improved today.

WILSON CALLS LEAGUE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—President Wilson has issued a call for the first meeting of the league of nation's assembly, it was announced at the state department today. The date for the meeting is set for November 15 and it is understood that Geneva will be the meeting place. The call has been sent to Sir Erick Drummond, the league's secretary, who must make the text public.
